Updated wraparound criteria

Magellan has updated the wraparound services criteria; these criteria are currently in effect. Wraparound services require youth to meet all of the following:

CANS score

- An overall CANS (Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths) level score of 2 or 3.

Multi-system involvement

- Behavioral health need and/or participation in at least one additional child-serving system, such as:
    - Court involvement
    - Child Protection Services (CPS)
    - Education needs (IEP, 504 Plan, or goal to improve educational performance)
    - Physical health needs
    - Developmental or intellectual disabilities

Willingness to participate

- Youth and family must be motivated to engage in the wraparound care planning process, with an average length of 12-14 months.

Need for intensive care coordination

- Youth and family can benefit from intensive care coordination and/or have not seen progress with current care coordination efforts.

Additional indicators

Wraparound may also be appropriate for youth experiencing:

- Risk of out-of-home placement
- Transition needs from higher levels of behavioral health interventions, such as:
    - Intensive home- and community-based services
    - Intensive outpatient programs
    - Partial hospitalization
    - Residential care or hospitalization
